

2 Debt of Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.

(1) Debt of Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.

The debt of “Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” includes government-guaranteed debt, borrowings from the General Account, the Fiscal Loan Fund, and other Special Accounts. Their debt also includes FILP Agency Bonds, etc., as means of financing from the private sector.

“Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” refer to Incorporated Administrative Agencies (☞①), public corporations (☞②), and authorized organizations (☞③). All of these are corporations that are engaged in public policy implementation under governmental supervision.

A. Financing from the central government

a. Borrowing from Fiscal Loan Fund

Some projects of “Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” are financed by FILP to flexibly cope with national demand or socioeconomic changes. In line with FILP reform efforts, FILP-target projects are further focused and made more efficient. The organizations that utilize FILP are called FILP Agencies.

b. Other Borrowings from the central government

There are also interest-free loans from the General Account and Special Accounts to “Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.”

B. Financing from the private sector

As a result of the FILP reform, FILP Agency Bonds, which are not guaranteed by the government and are publicly offered, have been introduced as a new financial method for FILP Agencies to raise funds independently. It is thought that FILP Agencies promote information disclosure and improve their business operational efficiency by FILP Agency Bonds issuing. Some kinds of “Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” such as the Japan Finance Corporation (JFC), etc., need Diet authorization to issue bonds. Furthermore, an approval from the Competent Minister is required in general for a FILP Agency to issue bonds or make long-term borrowings. The Competent Minister can give their approval only after consulting with the Minister of Finance.

☞① Incorporated Administrative Agencies generally refer to corporate bodies established pursuant to stipulations in Article 2, paragraph (1) of the “Act on General Rules for Incorporated Administrative Agencies”: “A corporation, incorporated pursuant to the provisions of this Act and the relevant Individual Act as an agency managed under the medium-term objectives, a national research and development agency or an agency engaged in administrative execution, for the purpose of effectively and efficiently conducting, from among the processes and services that need to be implemented securely from a public perspective, such as the stability of the lives of the people, society and the economy, and that do not need to be implemented directly by the State itself, those affairs that may not necessarily be implemented properly if entrusted to private entities or that need to be conducted monopolistically by a single entity.” Here, the “Individual Acts” refer to laws that provide for matters concerning the name, purpose, and scope of operations, etc. of the respective incorporated administrative agencies.

(2) Financial Conditions of Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.

“Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” disclose information on their financial conditions in various forms.

Incorporated Administrative Agencies compile financial statements, which are based on corporate accounting principles as a general rule, pursuant to the provisions of order of the competent ministry, in accordance with the “Act on General Rules for Incorporated Administrative Agencies.” The financial statements are audited by an auditor and an accounting auditor and are approved by the Competent Minister before their disclosure (☞). Government supervision of Incorporated Administrative Agencies has shifted its focus from ex-ante control to ex-post check in order to strengthen their independence. The financial statements of Incorporated Administrative Agencies contribute not only to better understanding of how these agencies conduct businesses but also to appropriate evaluations of their business results.

Each public corporation and authorized organization also compile financial statements in accordance with the Act under which it was established, receives approval from the Competent Minister, and discloses this information. Each institution compiles and discloses an “administrative cost analysis statement,” etc., based on corporate accounting principles to fulfill its accountability to explain the future burden on taxpayers.

The financial statements of major “Incorporated Administrative Agencies, etc.” in which the government has invested are attached to the budget submitted to the Diet as reference materials as stipulated in Article 28 of the “Public Finance Act.”

☞ Auditing by an accounting auditor is not required for an Incorporated Administrative Agency whose operational size, including its capital amount, fails to reach the standards provided by Cabinet Order (Article 39, paragraph (1) of the “Act on General Rules for Incorporated Administrative Agencies.”).
